

The Hawk

or

aw

au

I woke up at the crack of dawn and saw a hawk on my lawn.

The hawk's claws were sharp like thorns or swords.

The hawk's legs reminded me of corn.

The hawk's head was an awesome sight.

Daunting eyes, a razor
sharp beak and short feathers neatly placed.

Then the hawk on my lawn launched into the sky and flew off into the autumn light.

Why do you think the author wrote

‘The hawk’s legs reminded me of corn.’ ?

What are the similarities?
